Publishers of Golf Now! Chicago

Dear Cheryl Justak:

It has truly been a pleasure working with you the past three years at The Brassie and here at Lake Michigan Hills. You make me feel as a “partner” and not just a client.

As a publisher, your magazine has been a champion for our golf course and you personally are an advocate for us in person when you are at trade shows or visiting your other clients. After we had discussed the “Lake Michigan Golf Trail”, you made the project happen without delay and the “Lake Michigan Golf Trail” in Golf Now! Chicago magazine is a great piece to show to those who are looking for another local golf course to play on the West coast of Michigan.

One of the qualities that truly set you apart from your contemporaries is that you are an avid golfer and you have played Lake Michigan Hills here at least once each year that I have been here. There is no better way to promote us than by actually having experienced a round here at “The Hills”.

Should any golf course ever be looking to expand their marketing base in the Great Lakes region, Golf Now! Chicago should be at the top of their list.

I appreciate all that you have done for us to help us grow and expand our reach over the past two years and I anxiously await to see what we can achieve in the future.

Sincerely,

Wayne Yamaguchi
